CLASS HISTORY

Once upon a time a group of freshmen entered a school that they had only heard rumors about. This school was called "high school." It was a school where big seniors locked little freshmen into lockers, where infamous English teachers named Mr. Herr assigned huge papers every single night, and where everyone got lost and could never figure out what class they had next. Strangely enough, on the first day of school, this group of freshmen was excited to enter this world of doom.

Well, we entered it . . . funny thing was, it wasn't at all like all the rumors. First of all, the lockers were just big enough to fit a hockey stick never mind a kid; second of all, Mr. Herr turned out to be the best and funniest teacher that a lot of us freshmen ever had . . . and about getting lost, well, after less than a week at this high school we knew our way around just as well as any of those big old seniors. We were set! The class of 1994 was ready to take this high school thing head on. And so began 4 years of working together to make our class the best it could possibly be.

We've worked hard the past few years, and with our advisors, Lisa Knight and Anne Lemenager standing strongly behind us we've always been ahead with money in our account. Our fundraisers ranged from car washes, selling clam chowder, to setting up a great concession stand at football games. If it weren't for the high percentage of kids helping we probably wouldn't have been able to put on a great junior prom and a Christmas ball, senior year. So, basically, this class has pulled together to earn as many dots, on Lisa and Anne's "Dot System" as possible. It worked everybody wanted dots so everybody helped.

I think every class has had its experiences with raising money and working together, but what I think sets this class apart from the rest is each individual kid. When we first began as little 9th graders we didn't really know each other that well, so everyone who came from the Tisbury school hung together and everyone who came from the Edgartown school hung together. As the years progressed people merged into one whole group. I'm not saying that all of us are all friends or that all of us are exactly alike, I'm saying that there seems to be a sense of community between all of us. The strange thing is, and everybody can admit this, a lot of us tend to belong to different stereotypical groups . . . our class has homeys, crunchies, jocks and preps. That's not so strange. I mean, some of us like different music and have our own way of dressing, that's normal. What's strange, is that even though we like different things, we have grown to respect each other for who we are, not for what kind of music we like. That's what our class is all about, respect. When it's time for the Class of 1994 to work together, we forget all our difference and we work together to do our best. When we are just left to pass by each other in the halls, kids respect each other.

Four years ago, our class worried about high school. Now we are left worrying about the future and what to do with it. Whatever we decide to do, we will never forget the kids that we spent four years of our lives with. Through our years together we have learned a lot from one another. We have learned respect and when we leave this island and go out into the "real world" that sense of respect toward other people's opinions and beliefs will certainly come in handy. This high school is the world on a smaller scale; all kinds of different people living in one world. Work together with people, as you have done with your classmates, and things will work out for you.

Sincerely, Charlotte Iest, Class Historian

MEMORIES: Memories bring back the past, but yet the past is one big memory ... Through life's obstacles we've all managed to survive on our own faith, Down the winding roads to the future that lies ahead we've fought for the things we deserve ... In the days left to come we will be acquainted with reality and all of the ups and downs that follow. But through it all were a bunch of individuals with a sense of vitality ... to my friends and the Senior class, thank you for the events that will leave with me and the unforgettable memories of yesterday!!! Good Luck and Best Wishes.

QUOTE: Each day has enough trouble of its own, therefore don't worry about tomorrow for tomorrow will worry about itself ... Each day is a new beginning so fear not, for each day will be what you make of it ... Don't deny the disappointments of life, for we're all gonna fail, we are not perfect ... Try for the best but settle for the less ... Don't fear for the worst, for the worst will get the best of you ... Don't fear that things won't get better, for the better was an improvement of what was ... Don't dwell in the midst of fear, for the fear will capture you in the fear of trying and believing!!! — Rachel L.J.

A Special Thank You to my other half (reneé) for being someone I can talk to, laugh with and understand ... You're a person who knows how I feel, and is always there when life seems so unbearable ... Thinking of all the things life has given me and the wonderful joys life has to offer you, my friend, come first! Love, your better half!!!

QUOTE:

Old lady judges watch people in pairs
Limited in sex, they dare
To push fake moral insult, and stare
While mone doesn't talk, it swears
Obscenity, who really cares
Propaganda, all is phony.
While them that defend what they cannot see
With a killer's pride, security
It blows the minds most bitterly

My eyes collide head on with stuffed graveyards,
stuffed graveyards,
False Gods, I scuff

At pettiness which plays so rough Walk upside down inside handcuffs
Kick my legs to crash it off
Say okay, I've had enough
What else can you show me . . .

When a man attains to Pure Reason, he renounces in this world the results of good and evil alike. Cling thou to Right Action. Spiritually is the real art of living.

The sages guided by Pure Intellect renounce the fruit of action; and, freed from the chains of rebirth, they reach the highest bliss. It is only the petty-minded that work for reward. — The Bhagavad Gita

"Ode to a football cheerleader"

Ode to a Football Cheerleader
It started last May — this Cheerleading thing,
"We need a new coach," Don Herman did sing.

"Not without help," I said in a flash
— — — so on Robin, on Bev come make a big splash.

Cheer camp was discussed with zest and with might — and we planned and we planned — all day and all night.

"We want a spirit stick — we must bring one home!"
It's a trophy from camp, or so I'd been told.

Off to camp we went, with gimmicks and with tricks —
On day 1 we dressed like a giant spirit stick.

We worked three long days through sweat and through tears — 3 awards were won — the first in all years!

Then came September and the football began With thoughts of great halftimes and pleasing our fans.

"Melissa," I said "please show me the ropes." —
"All these cheers and these chants, I'm not sure I can cope!"

But with Jaime and Lori and we muddled on through — We'll cheer for our own team and ourselves as well too.

"What 2 guys cheering?", had the squad lost its mind!
But we did as we please -- It's best you will find!

With Vineyard is Here, Trickle-Trickle and Hey Hey, Fun Pom and lifts, well what can we say?!

Our halftime shows were great, the fans wanted more — We won every game if we'd actually kept score.

So thus puts a rest to a wonderful season —
"I'm proud to be a cheerleader and those were my reasons!"

THE CAPE & ISLANDS Partnership TO REDUCE SUBSTANCE ABUSE

District 5, Martha's Vineyard, MA

The Cape & Islands Partnership to Reduce Substance Abuse, operated on Martha's Vineyard by Sheriff Christopher S. Look, Jr., wishes all the best to the graduating class of '94.

Partnership efforts like "Together We Can" bring to this community a new understanding of what drug & alcohol abuse prevention is all about. Drug & alcohol use is a personal choice that only the user can make. You will decide your destiny.

It is the hope of the Partnership that each member of the class of '94 will stand strong in their personal convictions; that each stand ... in no one's shadow.

RACHEL:

To my sister

We share a love that's special,
A love that reminds me of who I am,
something that you would never let me forget.
A love that says I can always be myself, because you accept me as I am.
A love that says I'm welcome at all times to just talk, laugh or cry; whether it's a problem big or small, or maybe it's nothing at all.
And I know I wasn't always the best of company.
I needed someone to see me through,
and you were there.
To be honest there were times I don't know what I would've done without you.
I know I must have tried your patience countless times,
and yet you never turned your back on me.
There are no words strong enough to express how grateful I am.
I'll never forget what you've done for me, and because of the special person you are,
you will always be one of the more special people in my life.
I wish you the best of health and happiness,
and may you pursue all your dreams.
You're the greatest sister and best friend
I could've ever hoped for.
May the greatest future be awaiting you.
I want you to know that you will always hold a very special place in my life, but more so my HEART!!!!!!

I LOVE YOU

Sheriff Christopher S. Look, Jr., The Board of Trustees, and the Officers of Designated Driver of Martha's Vineyard, Incorporated remind the Graduating class of '94 that Drinking and Driving is a risk that no one should take.

If you are with people who can legally drink, encourage them to choose a Designated Driver that doesn't drink at all. If you are not of age, wait. Soon enough you will be faced with the challenges of adulthood, including your decision to drink alcohol. As an adult, if you choose to drink, incorporate the philosophy of having a Designated Driver who doesn't drink at all.

AN OUTSTRETCHED HAND

We can't be certain who or what created us
Some of us grew tall.
Others stood out in the wind
Their branches bent and fell.
Those of us who walk in light
Must help the ones in darkness up,
For that's what life is all about
And love is all there is to life.

We can't be certain who or what created us
We are all beautiful in the mind's eye.
Those of us that turned out sound
Should look across our shoulders once
And help the weak ones to their feet.

It only takes an outstretched hand.
